

SUMMER SESSION

While Autumn, Winter, and Spring quarters last about 10 weeks at Seattle Pacific University, Summer Sessions are two to eight weeks long — allowing you to earn credits during the summer, take charge of your degree, and graduate sooner.

As a graduate student, you may have a program that begins with a summer cohort, or you may want to take advantage of summer to complete your program's required courses — or add to your career skills. Summer Session allows you to meet your goals.

View the Graduate Summer Class List (<https://spu.edu/graduate-time-schedule/summer-class-list/>) to find the classes you need.

Tuition

You can find information on tuition for graduate programs (Summer through Spring) on the Graduate Tuition and Fees (<https://spu.edu/student-financial-services/costs/grad-tuition-fees/20256-grad-tuition-fees/>) page. Costs vary by program and degree. Students will need to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) (<https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa/>) to be eligible for summer aid.

If you have questions, please contact Student Financial Services at sfs-info@spu.edu, or by phone at (206) 281-2061 or (800) 737-8826.

How to Register

The process you follow to register for Summer Sessions depends on your student status.

- Continuing students: Register online through Banner (<https://login.spu.edu/cas/login/?service=https%3A%2F%2Fbanweb-sso.spu.edu%3A443%2Fssomanager%2Fc%2FSSB>).
- Non-matriculated students: Find information on how to register for classes, including a link to the registration form, on the Non-Matriculated Student FAQ page (<https://spu.edu/administration/office-of-the-registrar/non-matriculated-faq/>).

Registration Deadlines

Summer term is divided into multiple sessions (as listed below). Each summer course is associated with a particular summer session. You can find the session associated with a course ("Summer Part...") at the bottom of the information box that appears when you click on the course title in the Summer Class List located in the Summer Time Schedule.

- Adding courses for 2- and 4-week sessions: You must register by the third business day of the session. Registrations will not be accepted after this day.
- Adding courses for 8-week sessions: You must register by the fifth business day of the session. Registrations will not be accepted after this day.
- Dropping courses: You must drop a course before it ends. Once the course has ended, you will not be allowed to withdraw.
- Internships, independent studies, individual instruction, and dissertations have the extended registration deadline of Tuesday, July 22.

Web registration may close before the course starts, and students will need to register in an alternative fashion.

If you receive the error message, "Registration changes are not allowed. Course status dates not within range for part of term," web registration has closed for that course.

Summer Waitlist

If a Summer Session course fills, you should be able to add yourself to a waitlist. If a spot in the course opens prior to the first day of class, Banner will automatically send you an email notification of the open spot. You are responsible for registering for the course within the time period given in the email notification and prior to the first day of the class.

The waitlist will be active beginning the first day of Summer registration. The registration window will be 24 hours after the email notification of an open spot is sent to you, up until the Monday after Commencement for Spring Quarter. Beginning the Monday after Commencement, the registration window will shift to 72 hours for the rest of the summer.

If you miss your email notification or forget to register, you automatically will be dropped from the waitlist and the you must re-add yourself to the waitlist if you still desire a spot in the course.

The waitlist will close to "adds" a few days prior to each Summer Sessions course session. That means you will not be able to add yourself to a waitlist, but if you are already on the waitlist and space becomes available, you will still be able to register into a course for which you have received a notification, provided the course has not already begun.
