Digital Education Leadership graduates apply what they learn in their classrooms as digital age educators, in schools or universities as digital coaches of educational technologists, and in districts and educational organizations as digital technology coordinators or consultants.

Certificate completers can move directly on to completing their MEd. Graduates from the MEd in Digital Education Leadership can seamlessly transition to the Doctor of Education EdD or PhD programs and use all credits earned in the master's degree to fulfill the elective requirements of the EdD or PhD programs.

All programs are designed using a cohort model, with new cohorts beginning each Autumn Quarter.

Admission Requirements

To apply for admission, submit the following items to Graduate Admissions (http://spu.edu/graduate-admissions/):

- Online application (http://admissions.spu.edu/apply/) and $50 application processing fee.
- Official transcript(s) from each college and/or university attended.
  - If your degree is not from a U.S. college or university, please arrange for your transcript to be evaluated by a NACES member (http://www.naces.org/)-recognized credential service. Acceptable credential services include, but are not limited to, World Education Services (http://www.wes.org/) (WES) and Foundation for International Services (http://www.fis-web.com/) (FIS).
- Résumé.
- Personal statement (1–2 pages).
- Two letters of recommendation. These letters should provide a current assessment of qualifications relative to past and future service in the professional setting, and capability for graduate study. Recommendations should come from present principals, supervisors, colleagues, or former professors.
