

APPLYING AS A POST-BACCALAUREATE STUDENT

If you have been awarded a baccalaureate degree from a degree-granting institution accredited by a nationally recognized accreditor¹, and you wish to complete a second undergraduate degree at Seattle Pacific University, you may apply through the transfer admissions process in Undergraduate Admissions (<http://spu.edu/undergraduate-admissions/>).

If you have earned credit from an institution outside the U.S., see how credit from an international institution transfers (<https://catalog.spu.edu/undergraduate/admissions/applying-international-student/transferring-international-credits/>).

Required materials for admission consideration include the following:

- Complete and submit the Common Application Transfer Application (<http://www.commonapp.org/>), the SPU Transfer Application (<http://spu.edu/apply/>), or the SPU Nursing Application (<http://spu.edu/apply/>).
- A $50 non-refundable application fee.
- An official transcript from each institution where you completed courses that contributed to your bachelor's degree.
- An official copy of the final transcript from the institution that granted your baccalaureate degree (showing the granted degree).
- Any additional transcripts showing post-baccalaureate work.

Review standards governing completion of a second bachelor's degree (<https://catalog.spu.edu/undergraduate/degree-requirements/post-baccalaureate-degree-requirements/>).

Please note that post-baccalaureate students are not eligible for merit-based financial aid.

Professional Licensure Disclosure

If you plan to pursue a degree or certificate program that leads to professional certification or licensure, be aware that each state has different professional licensure and certification requirements. Eligibility for certification/licensure may involve more than degree completion, such as professional examinations, background checks, and fingerprinting. The requirements for certification/licensure can change without notice.

The state professional licensing boards make the ultimate decision as to whether or not an individual will be eligible for certification/licensure based on the rules and regulations in place at the time the individual submits their application for certification/licensure. Find information here (<http://spu.edu/academics/professional-licensure-and-certification/>) about certification/licensure in the state where you intend to work.
